U-BOAT TOLL SHOWS INCREASE

Twenty-Two British Merchantmen of More Than 1600 Tons Were Sunk During Recent Week.

London, June 14.—The weekly shipping report issued by the admiralty yesterday states that twenty-two British merchantmen of more than 1600 tons were sunk. Ten merchantmen of less than that tonnage also were sunk together with six fishing vessels.

A summary of the report follows: Arrivals, 2,767; sailings, 2,822. British merchantmen over 1600 tons sunk by mine or submarine, including one previously, 22; under 1600 tons, including one previously, 10.

British merchant ships unsuccessfully attacked, including seven previously, 22. British fishing vessels sunk, six.

The weekly British report of vessels sunk by mine or submarine shows the greatest number of vessels meeting with disaster since the report of May 6. Two vessels not included in the British report have been sent to the bottom by German submarines—the French steamer Sequana of 5357 tons, and the British steamer Anglian of 5332 tons. The crew of the Anglian was saved, but 100 persons on board the Sequana perished.

TERRIBLE TOLL TAKEN.

German Airplane Killed or Injured 534 Londoners.

London, June 14.—The casualties as officially announced on yesterday's air raid on London numbered 534, including 97 killed and 437 wounded. Fifty-five men met death and 223 men were wounded. Sixteen women and twenty-six children were killed, and 122 women and 94 children were wounded.

The German squadron consisted of about fifteen machines, and the downed section of London was their chief objective. Many bombs fell in the east end, where buildings were destroyed and others badly damaged and scores of persons fell victims to the explosions. In one instance alone ten children were killed in a school and fifty were injured.

British airplanes ascended immediately the signal was given that hostile machines were coming, but the Germans remained at a great height and flew swiftly, and evidently the British fighters had difficulty in the pursuit, for the loss of only one German machine has been reported. Others are reported to have been brought down, but there is no official confirmation of this. The anti-aircraft guns of London seemingly were unable to reach the Germans.

While a great many small business houses and the homes of the poor in the crowded districts suffered great damage, Field Marshal Viscount French, commander of the home defenses, announced that no damage of a military or naval nature was done.

The east end stood the strain of the raid and there was no panic such as one might expect to find among a population of this class, which is largely foreign. Business was at a standstill in many sections for a few minutes and great throngs gathered about the wreckage, but they were orderly crowds, bent on seeing what damage the Germans had done.

And there was plenty of damage to see for scores of buildings had suffered and more than one was still smoking from fires which the engines were working upon. In some sections of the city where bombs had been dropped, traffic was held up almost entirely owing to the dense crowds and to the work being done by police and firemen in the damaged buildings. Every available policeman was called to the scene, even the night policemen being routed out to assist in handling the situation.

Throughout the bombed area there was a steady movement of ambulances, collecting the injured and rushing them to the hospital. One hospital, which is partly supported by donations from New York and has been used largely for wounded soldiers, probably got more patients than any of the others in this section. These soldiers did not seem to be injured, but they were in great pain, and in giving comfort to relatives who gathered about the building to learn the fate of those being carried within. In and out among the crowd of women, many of them with infants in their arms, hobbled soldiers on crutches, stopping here and there to drop a word of sympathy and encouragement.

HAILED ALMOST AS DELIVERER

Pershing Given Tremendous Ovation by Wildly Enthusiastic Frenchmen

RECEPTION LIKE THAT GIVEN KING GEORGE

Hundreds of Thousands Cheered Themselves Hoarse

Paris, June 14.—Paris opened its arms to General Pershing and his staff yesterday afternoon and welcomed them with an outburst of enthusiasm such as only Paris is capable of. No conquering hero returning home could hope to receive such a tremendous reception as greeted the American commander as his automobile passed before hundreds of thousands of cheering people. Frantic crowds all but blocked the progress of the automobiles. Men and women cheered themselves hoarse and flung flowers into the cars.

Parisians declare that the only event in their lifetime that approximates the reception in enthusiasm was that accorded King George of England in 1914. American flags were everywhere displayed and every American who appeared on the streets was loudly cheered and showered with flowers.

HONORED H. W. SCOTT

Who Recently Was Elected Supreme Vice Warden of the N. E. O. P.

Supreme and state lodge officers of the New England Order of Protection joined with members of Barre lodge, No. 138, and representatives from lodges in Burlington, Northfield, Montpelier, Hardwick, East Barre and Granville last evening in honoring Judge H. W. Scott of this city, who was recently elected supreme vice warden of the order in New England. The reception was held in Odd Fellows hall and all told there were more than 100 "Protectionists" present to join in the festivities. The affair was in charge of a large committee from the local lodge, headed by E. A. Williams, and after an interesting program of brief speeches, a reading and music, there was dancing, with music by Forsell's orchestra. Judge Scott, who has held all of the high offices in the grand lodge of Vermont, received his election at the annual convention of the supreme lodge in Boston last April.

The principal speaker was Daniel E. Sullivan of Boston, supreme warden, who congratulated the Barre lodge on contributing one of the most substantial members to the higher council of the fraternity. The supreme warden spoke spiritedly of fraternalism and particularly of the fraternalism that the N. E. O. P. stands for. He was followed by Daniel M. Frye of Boston, the supreme secretary, who paid a high tribute to the new vice warden. Others who spoke briefly were: State Warden Bagley of Bellows Falls, Vice Warden Bullock of Northfield, State Secretary Cramell of Burlington and Judge Scott. Miss Madeline McDonald contributed a reading and there were duets by Miss Albra Leslie, pianist, and Charles Collins, violinist, a vocal solo by Miss Henrietta Ingles and selections by a male quartet consisting of Messrs. Jarvis, Mackay, Ingles and Bayne. All of the numbers were very enjoyable.

The hall was attractively decorated in the national colors, forming a patriotic background for the exercises. After the program a number of young women served refreshments of punch and wafers and then a dance order was carried out with music by the orchestra.

PRESENT FRANCHISE DRAFT.

Traction Company Tells Montpelier City Council What It Desires.

At a meeting of the Montpelier city council last night the Barre & Montpelier Traction and Power company through Messrs. Sands, Gleason and Larrabee presented the outline of such a franchise as the company would like to be granted. There was no discussion of the outline, and the council will take up the matter later.

The principal feature of the proposed franchise is the retention of the present rate of fare between Barre and Montpelier. The company also wishes to run a 30-minute schedule simply through the months of May, June, July, August, September and a 40-minute schedule during the remainder of the year. It is proposed to insert a section to permit the company to carry policemen free, that sort of official not being named in the public statutes which prescribe what persons shall be carried free. Firemen in uniform are to ride free.

RECRUITING GOES ALONG BRISKLY

There Is Reason to Hope That Co. C Will Be Raised to War Strength Within a Few Days—Rally at Washington To-night.

All along the line recruits are flocking to the colors of Co. C, 1st Vermont National Guard, as the result of a strenuous drive inaugurated by company officers and a Barre Board of Trade committee early in the week. According to well authenticated reports about 20 young men, including groups from Plainfield and Wells River, applied at the military post yesterday for enlistments in the company and the response from Chelsea and adjacent towns, where the midweek drive was centered, are equally encouraging. To-day it was reported that the company is making rapid progress toward realization of its war quota and the culmination of patriotic rallies in Washington this evening and in Brookfield tomorrow night will be watched with interest.

To-day the khaki detail, encamped on the north common at Chelsea for the past two days, left for Washington, where the Co. C company boys, after pitching their tents near the soldiers' monument, found a ready welcome awaiting them. Washington and Chelsea alike seem to be doing their bit and indications point to a large attendance at the rally in Washington this evening. The speakers are to include Rev. Edgar Crossland of Barre and Rev. Paul Weller of Washington. It is expected that the Scottish bagpipe and drum band will be present and there is a probability that a dance will follow the speechmaking. The appeal direct is being made to the young men of Washington and it is sent among the young fellows of that town is an earnest they will not be found wanting.

Yesterday the Board of Trade committee visited Brookfield and found a large number of citizens waiting to welcome them. The khaki detail will move from Washington to Brookfield tomorrow and at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon the citizens will be privileged to witness the soldiers in Butts' physical drill and an animated skirmish. In the evening there will be a big patriotic rally. Women of the town are to serve refreshments for the benefit of the Red Cross and an effort will be made to present a plain statement of the case for Co. C company. Atty. William Wishart of Barre will be one of the speakers and either Rev. Fraser Metzger of Randolph or Comrade George Plagg will contribute to the speechmaking.

TWO RESPONDENTS GUILTY.

One of Breach of the Peace, Other of Petit Larceny.

Chelsea, June 14.—On Wednesday morning a jury was called in county court in the case of the respondent, Robert Burroughs of Corinth, who was informed against by the state's attorney, the charge being breach of the peace. State's Attorney Sherburne prosecuted and the respondent was defended by Frank S. Williams and Milward G. Taft. The case was short and went to the jury in mid afternoon, and after a few minutes, deliberation the jury returned a verdict of guilty, through their foreman, Hayden M. Gaylord of Randolph.

In the case of State vs. Joseph Sanborn of Topsham the respondent pleaded guilty to the charge of petit larceny and was sentenced to pay a fine of $35 and costs, which was promptly liquidated and the respondent was discharged. State's Attorney Sherburne is prosecuting and R. M. Harvey of Montpelier defended.

At 4:30 p. m. a jury was empaneled in the case of State vs. Willis Bryan Magoon, who entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of breach of the peace. State's Attorney Sherburne is prosecuting and F. S. Williams and M. C. Taft are defending.

"PEACE" TALK UNMASKED

President Wilson Discloses Purpose of German Government

HOLDING BIG GAINS, HOPES TO END WAR

And Justify Itself Before German People for the Great Expenditure

Washington, D. C., June 14.—President Wilson warned the American people in a flag day address on the Washington monument grounds to-day that Germany has carried out to effect the greater part of her immediate plan of conquest and now is negotiating a new "intrigue of peace" designed to end the war while her aggressions are secure.

All the central empires, the president declared, have been cemented into one great machinery of aggression, "throwing a broad belt of German military power and political control across the very center of Europe and beyond the Mediterranean into the heart of Asia." This accomplished, he said, it is easy to understand why Germany is fostering a propaganda for an early peace.

"Peace, peace, peace, has been the talk of her foreign office for now a year and more," said the president. "A little of this talk has been public, but most of it has been private. Through all sorts of channels it has come to me and in all sorts of guises. The military masters under whom Germany is bleeding see very clearly to what point fate has brought them. If they can secure peace now with the immense advantages still in their hands they have up to this point apparently gained, they will have justified themselves before the German people; they will have gained by force what they promised to gain by it."

The president recalled that the German aggressions which drove the United States to war, he declared, the purposes for which American soldiers now carry the Stars and Stripes to Europe for the first time in history are not new to American traditions because realization of Germany's war aims must eventually mean the undoing of the whole world. He spoke in full as follows:

"My fellow citizens: We meet to celebrate today because this flag which we honor and under which we serve the emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than that which we give it from generation to generation. The choices are ours. It floats in majestic silence above the hosts that execute these choices for us in the name of the nation. We celebrate the day of its birth; and from its birth until now it has witnessed a great event, a great plan of life worked out by a great people. We are about to carry out the plan which it has never sought the fire before. American armies were never before sent across the seas. Why are they sent?
